Russia in A Reign Of Terror

Turbulent Russian Situation Shrouded in Veil of Contradictions.

KERENSKY IN POWER?

Bolsheviki Claim Premier Is in Flight; National Suicide, Fear.

(By International News.)

London, Nov. 14.—Premier Kerensky has made a victorious entry into Petrograd and the Bolsheviki uprising in that city has now been completely defeated, according to advices by way of Stockholm today.

(By International News.)

London, Nov. 13.—A reign of terror exists in Petrograd.

Information to this effect was received today from the Russo-Swedish frontier, but all else concerning the turbulent Russian situation was hidden behind a veil of rumor and contradictory reports.

London today eagerly awaited official confirmation of a report that Kerensky, aided by loyal Cossacks, had put down the Bolsheviki revolt and had restored his authority in the Russian capital, but it had not been forthcoming up to noon.

On the other hand, a good deal of pessimism was aroused here by a

TEUTONS TRY IN VAIN TO LOOSEN HOLD OF BRITISH

(By International News.)

Paris, Nov. 14.—German trenches were raided by French troops southwest of St. Quentin, the war office announced today. On the French front their is heavy cannonading.

(By International News.)

London, Nov. 14.—German troops on the West Flanders front made a desperate effort last night to break the British hold on the northern end of the famous Passchendaele ridge, but their attacks were shattered by the British fire.

The war office announced at noon that strong German attacks were launched north of the town of Passchendaele, but that all were completely repulsed.

The British positions were heavily shelled before the assaults were begun, but Field Marshal Haig's gallant defenders maintained all their trenches despite the fury of the bombardment and the infantry thrusts which followed it.

SALEM W.C.T.U. VERY GENEROUS IN GIVING TO "OHIO DRY" WORK

That the Salem union gave the third largest contribution to the recent "wet" and "dry" campaign was reported by Mrs. Laura Garside when she told of the recent state W. C. T. U. convention at Springfield at a meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Neil Ertzinger, on Vine street, Tuesday afternoon.

The report showed that during the past year the membership in the state had increased by 859, the Wellsville union being fifth in the state with a membership of 151. Mrs. McGillivray, of Wellsville, is superintendent of the state Loyal Temperance legion.

Mrs. O. A. Hess, of this city, received a flag at the convention for securing 25 subscribers to the state paper, "The Ohio Messenger."

A meeting in two weeks will be at the home of Mrs. W. A. Leatherberry, East High street.

MANY MOURN THE PASSING OF POLITICAL "WAR HORSE" OF DAYS LONG GONE BY

The late Al Carlile as he looked in days of yore, when his rotund figure and jovial smile were familiarly known throughout the state and much of the nation.

Cold Contracted Election Day Ends Fatally; Was Veteran of Civil War; Mayor of Salem for Four Years; Held Federal Post Under Cleveland; One of Cleverest Democratic Politicians of His Day, Prominent Throughout Ohio; Liquor License Commissioner of County at Time of Death.

A prominent figure, present and past, in local, county, state and national affairs passed away forever in the sudden death at 10:30 Wednesday forenoon of Ex-Mayor Al Carlile, aged 71, at his home on Lincoln avenue, to which he had been confined, seriously ill, since contracting on election day a cold which later developed into congestion of the lungs.

While critically ill two days ago, he had apparently rallied from the effects of his sickness when the turn for the worse came, almost without warning.

At the time of his death the late ex-mayor was one of the two members of the Columbiana county liquor licensing board, sitting at Lisbon. He was appointed to that office on its creation, in 1913, following adoption of the license system by the constitutional convention of the previous year, and was re-appointed some months ago.

While he had been in failing health for some time, he had been able to attend to his official duties until recently, and was a prominent figure in the Hallowe'en mardi gras staged by the Daisy club here October 31, taking part, as stated, in election day activities, which apparently overtaxed his strength.

Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls Gave Entertainment, Demonstration at Grand

A demonstration of what the Boy Scouts of America and the Camp Fire, a similar organization for girls, are doing for the rising generation in holding up high ideals, promoting efficiency and creating a desire for wholesome recreation was given Tuesday evening at the Grand, at an entertainment under the auspices of these local organizations.

The program opened with a burlesque style show, when those present were taken back to the days of our grandmothers and viewed the dresses that composed milady's wardrobe in the early days when the hoop skirt, the overskirt, tight waists and sleeves, and later the extremely large sleeve, were leaders of fashion, and which, in comparison with present-day gowns, appeared ridiculously funny.

The second part of the program was given by Troops 1 and 2 of the Boy Scouts, of which L. R. Chamberlain and George Miser are scoutmasters. After the troops had given the scout oath, a demonstration of knot-tying, signaling, first aid to the injured, and pyramid building was given, together with several "stunts."

Following the second part of the entertainment, Miss Pauline Warren, guardian of the Wabegona Camp Fire, gave a review of the founding of the Camp Fire and told of its objects and aims, one of which is to glorify the daily work of the Camp Fire girl.

The last part of the entertainment was a ceremonial meeting held by the Wabegona Camp Fire girls, at which time Miss Rebecca Davis was awarded the national shuta honor, meaning creation, for an original design of bead work.

A unique feature given by the girls at the close was "The Camp Fire Girl's Dream," in which the "pumpkins" of "Pumpkin Hollow" held a ball. This was preceded by the singing of "Mammy Moon."

Miss Ruth Ertzinger presided at the piano during the entertainment.

FIRST PHASE OF PIAVE BATTLE IN FAVOR OF TEUTON

(By International News.)

London, Nov. 14.—The first phase of the battle of the Piave in Italy has apparently swung in favor of the Germans, although dispatches from Rome state that the Teutonic advance southward from the Trentino frontier has been checked at some points.

The Italian success in the extreme northern part of Italy was more than offset, however, by the achievement of the Austro-German army northeast of Venice, where a crossing of the Piave river was forced.

This Austro-German feat is attributed to the preponderance of their artillery. Numerous big guns have now been moved to the front and are shelling the Italian positions night and day.

Fresh detachments of allied troops are reported to have reached northern Italy, together with guns and supplies of ammunition.

Now that nearly all of the fighting in the Italian theater of war is taking place on level ground, it is believed that some of the British tanks will be sent to that zone of operations to help the Italians.

On the lower Piave the Italians resisted the advance of the Teutons with great stubbornness, and heavy fighting has taken place around Zenson, where the Italian troops have been attacking the German bridgehead in an effort to hurl the Teuton soldiers back to the eastern bank of the river.

STATE GOES WET BY 1,137

Columbus, Nov. 14.—Prohibition was defeated in Ohio by 1,137 votes, according to official returns from all the counties, tabulated today at 1:10 p. m. at the secretary of state's office. The final summary showed the "wets" polled 523,727, "drys" 522,590.

A 10-hour bill for domestic servants is before the Californit legislature, while a bill has been introduced in the Oregon legislature making an eight-hour day for working women.

COX SEEKS INQUIRY AS TO HONESTY OF LIQUOR VOTE COUNT

Columbus, Nov. 14.—Gov. James M. Cox last night called on Secretary of State W. D. Fulton to exercise to the fullest his authority to establish whether fraud was practiced in the Ohio prohibition election, and, if so, to see that the guilty are punished.

The governor, in a formal official communication to the secretary, suggests that leaders of wets and drys submit information in their possession. He wants it made certain whether prevalent suspicions regarding changes in the figures in some counties are based merely upon rumor or have foundation in fact. He promises his aid in the task.

HERE'S THANKS FOR EVERYONE

FIRE MARSHALS TO BAN FIRETRAPS IN BUSINESS SECTION

Assistant State Fire Marshals S. E. Hartman, of Warren, and George W. McBee, of Columbus, were in the city Wednesday morning in conference with Fire Warden Howard relative to fire hazards at present existing in the business district of the city.

The visit of the state fire marshals is the result of a telegraphic communication sent by Mr. Howard to Mr. Hartman Sunday morning, following the burning of the Globe rink Saturday night.

While here only a little more than two hours Fire Marshals Hattman and McBee made an inspection of that block of firetraps in which the rink was situated and said by city firemen to be the worst fire district in the city. At least one stiff order for the mitigation of the fire hazard in this section is known to have resulted from the short visit of the state officials here.

Although their visit was cut short here Wednesday, Fire Warden Howard was given assurance that a second inspection would be made within the next week or 10 days, when it is expected that further strict orders will be served to clean up this district of fire traps and lessen the fire risks.

POLICE PATROL ARRIVED TODAY

The city's new motorized police patrol arrived in the city shortly before 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from Youngstown, being driven to this city by C. W. Zimmerman, local Studebaker agent, from whom it was purchased.

The new patrol is of dark maroon with black trimming.

The chassis was purchased almost three months ago and since that time has been in Youngstown, where the body of the car was built.

Two-day Drive a Success; Goal Is Left Far Behind

Reports at Supper Tuesday Eve Show Gratifying Results from Work of Teams; $17 Crock of Apple Butter Swells Total of Recreation Fund, Which Goes to $960 Maximum as Money Is "Conscripted;" Campaign Organization Made Permanent for Period of War; Thanks for Everyone.

WAR FUND

First day	$7,900.50
Second day	3,509.45
Grand total	$11,409.95
Initial quota	10,000.00
Oversubscription	$1,409.95

RECREATION FUND

Quota and pledges	$960.00

As a result of two days' energetic campaigning, the Y. M. C. A. war fund of $10,000 is well over-subscribed, and the $960 recreation is fully pledged, according to reports submitted at the "war banquet" Tuesday evening, in the Pioneer block, which marked the close of the drive for funds to enable the Young Men's Christian association to maintain its all-important work among our soldiers at home and abroad during the ensuing nine months.

Applause loud and long greeted the announcement, following a most appetizing and substantial menu served by the ladies of the Red Cross chapter to the campaigners and a number of guests, that the fund had been over-subscribed $1,409.95, and when it was found that the recreation fund for the soldier boys in training had only reached the $630 mark enough money was conscripted from the banqueters and pledged by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to make up the balance.

The teams, their captains and the amount of their pledges on the second and last lap of the campaign, from noon Monday until evening Tuesday, are as follows:

Team No. 1, J. T. Brooks captain, $494.50; No. 2, G. J. Bunn, $293.95; No. 3, H. A. Gager, $412; No. 4, R. B. Thompson, $356.50; No. 5, M. J. Grable, $331.25; No. 6, I. N. Russell, 5$40; No. 7, R. S. McCulloch, $360,65; No. 8, J. R. Bustard, $352.75; No. 9, H. N. Loop, $264; No. 10, H. E. Drevenstedt, $240, making a grand total $3,644.70, from which $135.25 in recreation fund pledges was deducted, leaving the day's net total for the war fund $3,509.45 and the net total for the campaign $11,409.95.

Team totals for the entire campaign, with No. 6, captained by I. N. Russell, in the lead on the second day; No. 8, captained by J. R. Bustard, on the first, and No. 1, led by J.

France Without Cabinet Today

(By International News.)

Paris, Nov. 14.—France is without a cabinet today, for the second time in two months.

The crisis which resulted in the resignations of the Painleve ministry was precipitated by the Socialists.

The ministry's attitude toward the proposed inter-allied war council which is soon to convene in this city was the target for much hostile criticism.

DAMAGE VERDICT OF $125 AGAINST SALEM GIVEN CHAS. STAFFORD

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—A damage judgment for $125 was entered against the city of Salem in Judge Moore's court this morning in favor of Charles Stafford, to compensate him for injuries he received when he slipped and fell upon the icy sidewalk on East Main street. A jury was dispensed with and the case submitted to the court.

Stafford brought the action some time ago demanding $5,000 from the city. On December 23rd, last, he was on his way home from the Shriver pool room about 11:30 o'clock at night, and as he was walking along the sidewalk in front of the Bennett drug store, he slipped upon the ice which the city had unlawfully permitted to accumulate upon the sidewalk, and fell. In falling he struck his knee upon the sidewalk and his knee cap was split into three pieces, so that he was obliged to remain in the City hospital for four weeks.

He stated to the court that he is a brick layer by occupation, and was in the employ of the Buckeye Engine company at the time of the accident.

FIX MAXIMUM COAL PRICES IN 3 CITIES

Through Chairman C. B. Hunt, the county coal commission late Wednesday announced the following maximum retail coal prices which shall prevail within the city limits of the following corporations:

East Liverpool, $5.60 a ton; Wellsville, $5.38, and Lisbon, $5.

Confirmation of the retail price set for this city is awaited from the state commission, and its announcement is expected shortly.

SOLDIER FOOTBALL ELEVEN AND 100 LOCAL LADS AT CHILLICOTHE COMING TO GRID CONTEST HERE

Salem will have its first opportunity to give a rousing welcome to the sons who have gone to the colors when 100 or more men from Camp Sherman, the United States training camp at Chillicothe, will come here, accompanying the crack training camp football eleven, booked for a game with the Salem Independents to be played at Reilley field at 3:15 Saturday afternoon.

Already plans are maturing for a rousing welcome to the boys, and it is predicted that when the first kick-off is staged Saturdy afternoon, old Reilley field will be crowded to the fences with friends and fans from all over Columbiana county. Word from Chillicothe is to the effect that most of the Columbiana county boys in camp are arranging to make the trip with their team and spend the short furlough with friends and relatives in this section

Final arrangements for the big game were completed at a business meeting of the Independents Tuesday evening. A telegraphic acceptance of the proposition for the game from the Camp Sherman boys was received Tuesday accompanied by the assurance that the team would bring along fully 100 of the boys in camp there. The Independents were compelled, in order to secure this game, to make a substantial guarantee, but felt that Salem fans and friends of the soldiers would enjoy the opportunity of again greeting the boys who will soon go to the front and would back up the locals in their effort to provide a drawing card of this magnitude for Salem fans.

The Independent drum corps will act as an escort to the visiting team when it arrives here, and will conduct the players to Reilley field for the game. The hour of arrival is not definitely known at this time, but will be announced later. The board of education, through Superintendent J. S. Alan, has granted the free use of Reilley field for the game, and has also extended the use of the shower baths and dressing rooms at the High school building for the visitors.

The Independent management is also trying to arrange other features of welcome to the visitors, and hopes to be able to have the entire draft board for this district attend the game in a body.

Aside from the spectacular features to be afforded by the visit of 100 or more uniformed "Sammies" to the city, and the rousing welcome which they are sure to receive, there seems certain to be one of the best football contests which Salem has witnessed in a long time.

Salem will have several of its old stand-bys in the lineup, while the military team from Camp Sherman has a lineup of huskies, some of whom have made football history in past seasons.

The lineups will be announced later.

"OVER THE TOP" AGAIN.

So long as men and women of Salem and vicinity display the willingness to work and men and women and even boys and girls the willingness to give that were manifested in the Y. M. C. A. war fund campaign which has just come to a successful close, the boys in training and at the front need not fear lack of money to provide the things essential to their health, comfort and physical and moral welfare, and perhaps one of the surest indications of the noble part America will play in the world war is this unswerving loyalty of those behind the lines, in civilian ranks, who are as willing to make sacrifices and exert efforts for the cause as are those who man the ships or hold the trenches or in the nation's cantonments prepare to do these things.

Many calls have already come, many more are yet to come, for funds for needed war work, yet, even though lacking the added impetus of possession of a branch of the Y. M. C. A. here, the people of the city and the rural districts nearby responded generously to the campaigners who asked for contributions to this institutions' work for our soldiers and sailors, and the fund is well "over the top," again putting Salem in the forefront as a city which does its duty as it sees it and can be depended upon at all times to measure up, even though its way of doing things may not be quite so spectacular as that of other centers of population which come no nearer meeting their obligations.

Much of credit is assuredly due both those who gave of their time and effort and those who contributed their money to this cause, while the ladies of the Red Cross whose appetizing luncheon and supper did so much to make the campaign the enjoyable work it was are fully deserving of their meed of praise. As campaigners and as campaign supporters, Salem folks are "there!"

EFFICIENCY THE NEED.

And while this matter of past, present and future campaigns is chiefly in our minds, would it not be well to consider just for a moment the matter of campaigning efficiency, that we may profit thereby when similar work is to be done?

There would seem to be a very pressing need for more thorough organization of the territory, in order that the duplication of work which was especially noticeable in this last campaign may be avoided, with the dual advantage of lessening the work of the campaigners and diminishing unnecessary annoyance of the "campaigned," so to speak, while it is doubtless true that greater thoroughness in this regard would result in subscriptions from some "prospects" who now are inadvertently missed.

Before the next campaign for funds is launched—and there can be no doubt that many others will be required during the progress of the war to secure funds for various purposes—a complete card index file should be prepared, containing the name of every adult person or at least that of the head of every family, in the local territory, and these should be so arranged that the campaigners would work individual territory, so far as feasible, to avoid the duplicate solicitation which on Tuesday reached the point where one pestered business man reported that he had been approached 11 times by as many different workers.

There can be no reasonable excuse for a condition such as this, and the campaign work will suffer if it is allowed to continue. A complete directory of the city and vicinity will shortly be off the press, and this would seem to offer just the material needed for the card index system suggested. In such short campaigns as that for the war fund, the advisability of throwing the territory open at all is to be seriously questioned, but if it is done, campaigners should be required to put in the discard, just as was done in the hospital campaigns, the cards of all those seen, in order that duplicate work and annoyance of prospects may be reduced to a minimum.

The efficiency of the work of the teams is in no sense being called into question: it is simply a matter of supplying them with territory and prospects in such a way that efficient campaigning may be done. It is believed that the task could thereby be materially shortened, and when the drive was over there would be full assurance both that all the available territory had been thoroughly worked and that none of it had been worked to death.

A Counter-Kick.

Editor News—I notice article in Monday's News concerning the Globe fire, signed by a citizen. The people of Salem should be congratulated that all are not of the same mind and that a riddance of such knockers would be of far greater importance to the community than the Globe auditorium. If this good citizen would take the trouble to ask the skaters, the basketball players and the young folks in general about this great amusement place he would find that the above statement is true. A good citizen would sign his name to his letters and be a man and not a coward and not be so selfish that he would not see others enjoy themselves.

FOUR GENERAL COURTS PUNISH WAR OFFENDERS

Camp Sherman, Nov. 14.—Without ermine, but clothed with judicial-military powers, four general courts—one for each brigade—are sitting almost daily here, punishing petty offenders and officers and soldiers charged with violation of articles of war.

Each regiment has a summary court, which has no jurisdiction over officers and whose maximum sentence in trials over privates is three months confinement and a fine of three months' pay.

The general court has greater power, extending even to the power of ordering a man shot. The more severe sentences are submitted to a reviewing authority, however, and pass through the hands of Major P. H. Winston, division judge advocate.

After evidence has been submitted, the officer of lowest rank votes first on his opinion as to the length of sentence, or acquital, as the case may be, so that there is no chance of his judgment being influenced by the opinion of a superior officer. The opinions then are averaged and the sentence thus secured.

WILLIAM LINN TELLS OF PREPARATIONS TO CARE FOR WOUNDED

U. S. Army Hosp., Takoma Park, D. C., Nov. 11, 1917.

Editor Salem News—"Perhaps it would be of interest to you and the News readers to know about the preparations the government is making for the care of the permanently disabled soldiers who return to the United States as a result of their participation in the greatest of all wars.

"Uncle Sam's soldiers who are wounded on the European battlefields will be well taken care of in the District of Columbia. Extensive building operations have been going on here at this hospital for their exclusive care.

"Twenty-five buildings have recently been erected to meet the emergency. Plans have been made for the erection of 25 more immediately. All of the buildings which have been erected are of wood construction and one story in height. These are wards and each will contain 64 beds. They all have screened porches around them entirely.

"One of the least interesting, yet highly respected buildings which has gone recently is the guard-house. The first person placed in this building will have the 'honorless' honor of having it named after him. The name will appear at the entrance way in conspicuous letters.

"Additions to this hospital will go on from time to time until the war is over and a conservative estimate as to the ultimate capacity can not be given. However, it is safe to say that a 3,000 mark will be reached at the conclusion of the first year of the campaign.

"A new large post exchange is being built together with a chemical and bacteriological laboratory.

"One of the principal features of this hospital are the buildings, yet to be constructed, that will provide for the reconstruction units. In this department soldiers who lose their arms, legs or possibly their eyesight in battle will be given instruction, under trained men, in various occupations, in order that they may be enabled to make a living.

"This hospital is under the command of Col. Charles F. Mason who is one of the army's most brilliant men. He is the author of Mason's Hand Book which every member of the medical department of the army has to study. Under his guidance assisted by a very able detachment of officers and enlisted men, America will owe a great debt for the reconstruction of those who have sacrificed and fallen upon the field of battle in order that liberty might exist upon the face of the earth."

Grip and Pneumonia

Brazilian Balm Kills the Germs

Brazilian Balm Has Not Lost a Case of Grip or Pneumonia in Nearly 40 Years. No Matter How Desperate or Hopeless, Stick to the Balm, and Give Nothing Else.

Four cases in this village, that no one thought could live, but they stuck to the Balm alone, and came out of the pneumonia in five days. One would not use the Balm and he died.

Years ago my little son of 6 was stricken with double pneumonia. The doctor cried when I told him I would depend upon Brazilian Balm alone. He had no faith and thought the child would surely die. But I gave him 10 drops every 15 minutes, and rubbed it hot on chest and back three or four times a day, and in five days he was up and well.

A month later another son was stricken in the same way, and also cured in five days. Neither one has had any lung trouble since to this day.

Then in grip it is just as effective. And it never leaves a "grip-wreck," because every germ is killed.

Now look at the grip and pneumonia epidemic in Philadelphia—700 deaths reported in four days. I confidently believe that Brazilian Balm would have saved every one of them. Why cannot the doctors cure these cases? They have no germicide, that is the reason. The Balm kills the germs—that is the secret. If they have a remedy as good as the Balm, why do they not use it and save all these people?

Do not mix Brazilian Balm up with quinine, opiates, etc. These dopes cure nothing and never did—they kill no germs—but they will kill the effect of the Balm. If you want the Balm to have full effect use nothing else.

In grip and pneumonia get the large bottles, and use freely and often. Three or four doses a day is little good. In pneumonia give every 15 minutes. In grip give every half hour, and a teaspoonful at night in a little water.

NERVOUSNESS AND BLUES

Symptoms of More Serious Sickness.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. ROBT. THINKS STAR SHOULD TAKE PLACE OF BLACK

Chicago, Nov. 14.—A movement has begun here for the substitution for the black garb of mourning of some designation, such, for instance, as a gold star, in memory of American soldier dead.

According to Mrs. Louise De Koven Bowen, chairman of the woman's committee of the State Council of Defense, the glory of the death should be emphasized rather than its sadness.

"The psychological effect of multitudes in mourning is not good. Soldiers do not like it and Germany forbids it," said Mrs. Bowen. "It is not too early to consider this subject now."

Now Look Out.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, look out for you are liable to contract some very serious disease. This succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract chronic catarrh, pneumonia or consumption. Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disappoints them. Try it. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

Will Punish Food Hoarding.

New York, Nov. 13.—Food hoarding is "a national offense" and "the whole drastic power of the United States food administration" will fall on any person found to be "aiding Germany" through the holding up of foodstuffs, it was declared by Arthur Williams, New York food administrator. He was commenting upon the discovery by government agents of approximately $75,000,000 worth of foodstuffs and other war supplies stored in this city and vicinity.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved.

"Before taking Chamberlain's Tablets my husband suffered for several years from indigestion, causing him to have pains in the stomach and distress after eating. Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of these spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Casey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

ASSIGNMENTS OF THOSE IN DRAFT

Army Officers to Make Best Possible Use of Men.

TO ORGANIZE SPECIAL UNITS

Will Be Based on Civilian Training of Soldiers — Presumably First Increments to Reach Camps Will Be Organized as Infantry Companies—Descriptive Lists of All Drafted Men to Be Made Out.

Army officers who will organize the national army divisions face the task of making the best possible use of the men selected for military duty by the local boards. They will come from all walks and conditions of life. Among them will be highly trained individuals, specialists in particular lines and efficient mechanics. It is the intention of the war department to get the maximum advantage for the nation out of each man's special qualifications, and his previous occupation will be carefully considered in assigning him to duty.

To accomplish this, it was pointed out, descriptive lists of all drafted men will be made out as soon as they reach the training cantonments. They will contain an abstract of the life history of the soldier, showing what occupations he has been engaged in. From these a preliminary classification can be made, subject always to the primary necessity of organizing a great body of infantry for duty in the trenches.

Qualification For Assignments.

During the months of training at the cantonments it will be possible for company commanders to form estimates of the character and special qualifications of their men. A process of shifting and transfer undoubtedly will ensue as individuals are sorted out. One man will be assigned to transport trains because of his special knowledge of horses or motor trucks, another to hospital work because of his previous training in that line of work, another to aviation because he has worked with gas engines, still another to the artillery because he shows special ability in that line or his civil occupation has trained his sight and hands. There is hardly a civil trade or occupation that has not its counterpart in the army, from clerk to clergyman, and no effort will be spared to get the right man in the right place in the new forces.

Already officials are being besieged with requests from men already held for military duty for assignment to particular arms of the service. Little can be done in that regard in advance of actual mobilization of the forces, but it is hoped that the wishes of many of the men can be met at the camps.

Presumably the first increments to reach camp will be organized as infantry companies. That was the practice followed in the officers' training camps which have just completed one course. The basis of all military evolutions is the school of the soldier, and that must be taught first. In addition, it makes possible a hardening process which will make the men physically able to meet the strain of the strenuous days to come.

To Organize Special Units.

After some weeks of elementary drill the organization of signal, engineer, artillery and other special units will commence. The process of selection by special qualifications will be applied to the greatest possible extent. At the same time the officers will begin to get a line on men who are likely candidates for future commissions, and they will be observed carefully with a view to promotion later.

Around the war department evidences of the great army that is in the making are beginning to show. Numerous officers of the regular army already have been given war time commissions in the national army. Some have gone up one grade in the process, some two. They are to be the staff officers of the new divisions, the inner circle of the training machinery. At the same time, officers just graduated from the training camps are being assigned to regiments of the new army. The whole process of building up the commissioned personnel will be well under way by the time the first 30 per cent of the drafted forces starts for camp.

HARVARD STUDIES VOICE.

All Cambridge Learns Value of Cultured Speech.

Nearly every one in Cambridge, from President Lowell of Harvard to the street venders, is contemplating taking lessons in voice culture. That's because the word has gone forth that "a well trained voice is the most powerful and subtle attribute in man or woman." This is the opinion of Miss Dagmer Perkins, who is stirring the Harvard University Summer school with her lectures on the "development of the personality through the voice."

Miss Perkins is declared to be the first woman to speak on such a subject, and she is, in fact, regarded as a pioneer in the field.

"The voice," she says, "is one of the most potent factors in the development of personality. There is a refinement of speech more indicative of character than either dress or gesture. A clear, quiet, cultured voice instantly commands attention and respect whether heard in the club, in the office or in the lecture hall."

EAT WHAT YOU WANT WHEN YOU WANT IT

People who consistently deny their appetite some particular dish appealing especially to their palate, because indulgence has always meant subsequent suffering, will think this a strong statement. It is a fact, however, that most people can, without fear of distressing consequences, indulge the appetite within reason if the bowels are active and regular.

Heavy dinners and late suppers can be enjoyed with impunity if, before retiring, one will take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that druggists sell for fifty cents a bottle. Gentle in action and positive in effect, it regulates the bowels in an easy, natural way, without griping or other discomfort, and is the ideal family laxative. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and keep it in the house. Use it occasionally and you will find you can eat almost anything you like without fear of consequences. U. S. TROOPS BEAR UP SPLENDIDLY AFTER FIRST FIRE BAPTISM

(By International News.)

With the American Army in France, Nov. 14.—American troops are bearing up splendidly under their first experience of being shelled by the enemy.

This is the unanimous opinion of the officers of the second battalions entering the trenches, which were visited by the correspondent of the International News Service.

"That is one great thing this first trip to the front is teaching the men," said one battalion commander.

"Of course we have not had a lot of it—only an occasional dose of high explosive and shrapnel—but the men get so they do not mind it much more than they would the pelting of rain drops of a hard shower. As a matter of fact the mumps played more hob with my battalion than the German shells.

"Twelve men had to go to the hospital from the mumps, but there was not a casualty from German shells."

The commander of the company attacked by the Germans in their trench recently made similar statements as well as the young lieutenant who sustained a minor case of shell shock during the raid after making three brave attempts to penetrate the German barrage to bring up reinforcements.

This lieutenant, who is now fully recovered, said that despite the violent cannonading of the Germans on the night of the raid, not one of his men was hit.

"It is wonderful how many shells can break all around without hitting one," said he.

"On the night of the raid it seemed as though the Germans were turning everything they had in the artillery line against our sector. I stepped from the dugout and ran down the trenches under their barrage but I had no sooner started than I was knocked down by the explosion of projectile on the parapet just behind me.

"The sensation was just as though I had received a powerful blow in the back between my shoulders. I picked myself up and started on another route but a shell caved in part of the trench and I had to go back.

"This time another shell struck the parapet just in front of me. It seemed as though I was surrounded by a huge ball of fire. I thought that sparks were spouting out of my shoulders and the tips of my fingers. I got up and started running and bumped into a private whom I knew. We stood still a second, and then I turned to make off in another direction. I had taken only one step when a shell burst right behind me, knocking me senseless. I couldn't have been out very long. I picked myself up and found my helmet missing. Then I started down the trench looking for it and stumbled over the body of the private I had been talking to only a few minutes before. He had been killed by a German raider while I was lying unconscious a few feet away from him."

The commander of the company attacked by the German raiders said that the attack had put a fine fighting spirit in the men. In his words "It was the best thing in the world for them."

The following night the very same company that had suffered the loss begged to go out on patrol duty. The men said they wanted one more chance to get back at the Germans.

On Monday morning the Germans fired between 50 and 60 gas shells at the American trenches, compelling the men to don their masks. Otherwise the sector remains normal.

AMBULANCE MAN FACED WAR PERILS

On Several Occasions Narrowly Escaped Death.

TORPEDOES MISSED SHIP

E. H. McCrahon, Veteranized by His Experience, Wants to Fight Now Under Old Glory—Says That Not Even Dead Are Permitted to Rest In Their Graves In This Awful War.

In the hope of winning an officer's commission at Plattsburg Edward Howard McCrahon, twenty-four years old, of Brooklyn, has arrived home after serving since last May as an ambulance driver for the American Red Cross on the French front.

"Ever since America entered the war," said young McCrahon, "I have felt that I could serve my country better on the actual fighting line rather than driving an ambulance. That is why I am now here in an endeavor to win a commission, that I may return to the other side and help in the battle for world freedom and democracy."

Before starting for the fighting front last April McCrahon was an inspector for the Acme Die Casting corporation of Brooklyn. He brought back with him a wealth of stories of the fighting on the French front.

His First Thrill.

McCrahon was hardly started on his military career before he saw action. He sailed on the French liner Rochambeau on April 21. Sixty miles off the French coast, while standing with a group of men at the port rail, he sighted a periscope. Almost at the same instant the wake of a torpedo was seen. The ship was swung over, and the torpedo passed about fifty feet astern. The submarine submerged, but again came to the surface, only to meet a volley of shells from the stern guns of the Rochambeau. A second torpedo passed harmlessly by. Wireless calls for help brought French destroyers on the scene, and the submarine disappeared.

"There is plenty of action driving an ambulance," said McCrahon, "but I am husky and in the flush of health, and I think I can serve better in an actual fighting unit. A man slightly crippled can drive an ambulance quite as well as a man with full physical qualifications. I think men slightly injured should be given the jobs of driving ambulances, while those better able to do so take up the burden of real fighting.

"I arrived in Bordeaux on April 30 and went immediately to Paris, where I was made an ambulance driver. After America's entry into the war I asked for my release from the ambulance corps, and it was granted. I was discharged July 28. In that short time I saw enough to realize the horrors of modern warfare."

Confesses He Was Scared.

McCrahon has the courage to confess that on several occasions he was scared.

"Scared? I should say I was. But that creepy feeling which may be described as fright gradually wears off. Perhaps the experience which got my nerve more than any other was a gas attack. With my assistant, a chap named Witzel of Newark, we were on the road, I at the wheel driving, when four poilus popped out of the night and yelled 'Gas!' I shook like a leaf. I was semiparalyzed. But I pulled myself together and awakened Witzsel just in time to don our gas masks. A few more seconds and we would have had our lungs full of the deadly stuff. The gas attack lasted over half an hour, sweeping the whole region.

"I had another close call. Nearly dead of thirst from driving over dusty roads, I took a chance on a drink from a roadside well, although we had been advised against it. Nausea seized me almost immediately, and I was frightfully weakened. I was carried to a hospital, where I hovered between life and death for eleven days. I owe my recovery to the untiring attention of a Miss Levy, a trained nurse at one of the French base hospitals.

"Usually in gas attacks warning is given by shrill blasts of a horn. Shell dodging comes as a matter of course. Those used to the 'song' of the shells can tell almost within a few feet of where they will fall. The size of the shell can also be determined by its shriek.

"I must say a kind word for the French officers. No matter what the surrounding conditions may be, they are always the perfection of courtesy. There seems to be a spirit of common brotherhood between the French officer and his men.

Danger Lurks Everywhere.

"It seems that not even the dead are to be permitted to rest in their graves in this awful war. Not far from St. Quentin a cemetery was within range of cross fire between a Canadian contingent and the German lines. The shells tore up the graves and scattered the bones in every direction.

"It is dangerous to touch anything found on the ground from which the Germans have retreated. To move a simple looking stick in the ground may mean the exploding of a mine. I know of a soldier who picked up a wrist watch lying alongside a wall. The act exploded a bomb on the other side of the wall, and the man lost both eyes.

Teuton 'Tin Fishes' Fail To 'Get' Donald Hise; He Writes from France Now

By W. Donald Hise.

"French soil is under foot at last and I am safe, happy and contented. The very thought of standing on solid earth again is pleasing, yes, refreshing after so many days on the vast ocean, full of fearsome "tin fishes" —English words of contempt for the German submarine.

"My last letter was written in an English 'rest camp' on the 12th. The name 'rest' does not convey the true significance of our experience there. Though we rested—that is, participated in few drills or hikes—we experienced great difficulty in avoiding rain drops. Rain, rain, rain and more rain, day and night—typical of southern England at this season. We never ventured beyond the door of our tent without a raincoat because it rained at the drop of the hat.

"However, we enjoyed the week's lay-over there. The city is a quaint old place—narrow streets, donkey carts, double-deck cars, tea-shops and bicycles for age and youth. But of this I have written before so I will tell of our trip to the continent.

"We were ordered out of camp to take the boat in a drenching rain early last week. The trip across the channel was made in a small, fast boat, and therefore very rough. Nearly every man was sick or "putting" his meals overboard. I, too, lost mine —though I was not sick. Merely joined the boys in "feeding" the fish. The trip was completed in a few hours in the black night, so the subs again were at a disadvantage.

"The skies cleared early and we landed at a large French port. We spent a day and night in a French 'rest camp' some distance from the docks. Then we proceeded to a railroad terminal, entrained and moved away. Where? We were not told, but we followed our course inland by our maps. We traveled in a southerly direction, passing through many large cities and much beautiful countryside. French farms are cultivated intensively and from appearances bumper crops may be depended upon here. The farmer gives more time to variety farming and spends less time in artistic detail of his estate than the Englishman, though both are systematic.

"We reached this city in mid-afternoon and hiked about two miles toward the northeastern section of town where our hospital is located permanently—the mayor believes, and we hope it is permanent. It is not yet a hospital—only a large, ancient building without equipment. Our equipment will be here soon and then our work will begin to count in the big game.

"When we arrived a steaming meal awaited us. It was prepared by the U. S. Naval base hospital No. 1 of New York. It is the first navy unit and is here temporarily, awaiting transfer elsewhere. The navy unit preceded us here only two weeks and they will move out in the near future.

"I have been trying to write with some unity and coherence but the noises and exciting incidents of our arrival district me! so! You know—songs, jokes, etc., of a college crowd!

"Now to our hospital and its environment, history, etc. The group of buildings constitute what was once a monastery, several hundred years old, known as ———. So brush up on your history. Yes! The main building is three stories of the double-L type, or quadrangle, surrounded by a dozen small buildings, all of shale and cement veneer, abundantly lighted and easily ventilated for hospital purposes. In the center is an open court where dense foliage and flower gardens are in full bloom in spite of the late season. Driveways thread their way around the buildings and foot paths where monks once trod in deep study, wind in and out the garden, small wood to the west and other gardens and an orchard to westward. The entire plot covers several acres and it is enclosed by a great shale wall, 10 feet high, with only a single gate and one or two small look-out holes.

"The entire environment is a happy one. Interest in the building style, etc.,—the surface, as it were—sinks below par when one considers the history of the institution. Volumes might be written of the beautiful chapel in one wing, where several ancient priests and monks lay in black marble tombs with appropriate epitaphs in Latin. They date back 300 years.

"The interior of the chapel is done in low tone colors, trimmed in gold. Tall pillars separate the old stained glass windows and many panels are done in paints of Christ and Mary, after the old school. The nave is a great parabolic arch studded with hand-wrought rosettes. The altar is white marble and busts of marble stand in various niches. That for the chapel.

"So, around these figures of former centuries is woven a fabric of historic interest that I will relate again. That is of little moment to you across the water, but it appeals greatly to me because I am walled in with it.

"You may think the stuff dry, coming from me here in France, so near the war zone. But that is uppermost in my mind. The front is a few hundred miles away and we have seen no semblance of fighting; we have not even been in ear shot of guns.

"Of course the intensity of war is impressed upon us in many ways. Soldiers on leave or wounded men are about us all the time. The first and last uniform seen daily here is the blue of the French—the boys who are bearing the rear burden of war and bearing it cheerfully, yet with a grim determination to win. They are winning, and rapidly.

"So far the civilians have welcomed us with much favor. They are the most hospitable people I have ever met. On the street they clear the sidewalks as we approach; even the women step into the street to let us pass—a courtesy we do not appreciate. Others offer smokes, and treats and strangers extend invitations to their homes for dinner. Imagine that to a French soldier in America."

"I find French difficult even though I had two years of it. However it is coming by degrees and when ever I have a working tongue I hope to learn many more Frenchisms.

"I hope also to become acclimated soon. A damp, chill air here is not so desirable when no heat is available at present.

"Coal is selling at $50 a ton—almost prohibitive—except for kitchen fires.

"Gasoline brings $1.72 a gallon! So pleasure cars are almost invisible. A few small taxis are available for the affluent only. A week's taxi receipts would approximate 'Billy' Sunday's salary and ruin a dozen millionaires. Yum!! Candies and delicacies are soaring, but fruits and produce are normal in price. A franc—20 cents—purchased a handful of tiny tid-bits for me today and they are not satisfying either.

'Since leaving Allentown no mail has reached us, but we look for it in a day or two. Now that we are settled mail and home papers will come on schedule.

"How soon we will be prepared for patients is indefinite. We are anxious to do our part and some wish to go to the front for training in the dressing stations. We are so far away, it seems, little action, if any, may be seen back of the lines.

"The buildings we occupy were used, since the outbreak of the war, by a French unit, No. 58, until a few weeks ago. Now they are uptown in a cathedral and an art gallery. They accommodated only a limited number of patients. We expect to erect 12 new buildings and be prepared for 500 or more patients in three or four months. Until then we will make the fur fly."

Villa Is on the Rampage Again

Presidio, Texas, Oct. 14.—Having driven government outposts in disorder towards the American lines, Villistas to the number of 1,500 are passing Ojinaja today. The attack is said to be directed by Francisco Villa, although it is not known if he is on the scene in person. His forces are well supplied with machine guns and are raiding the town, sending some bullets into American territory. American cavalry controls the border, while American army officers watch the fighting through field glasses.

LABOR BODY

for labor in the control of industry essential to the winning of the war

Three—The tendency of employers to use the war as an excuse for the unnecessary employment of women to take the place of men.

It has become a foregone conclusion that a resolution pledging the united support of labor to "peace only with victory" will be adopted by an overwhelming majority. There has been a scramble of the pacifists and other insurgents to get on the band wagon since the president's appeal to the convention Monday. Practically all anti-war sentiment has disappeared among the delegates.

The demand for a larger labor representation on the various government commissions having to do with the conduct of munition-making industries has reached such a stage among the delegates that the adoption of a resolution along that line is regarded as certain. The delegates supporting the movement believe that the president will not hesitate to grant the demand by enlarging the commissions to an extent sufficient to give labor an adequate representation.

The female labor problem is causing considerable worry. The convention is not hostile to the employment of women where it believes they are necessary. Fear is felt, however, that many employers are taking advantage of the present shortage of labor to permanently supplant male with female workers. Such a condition, the delegates point out, cannot fail to reduce the standard of wages, and while it might not be felt seriously at this time, it would create an extremely unsatisfactory condition after the war.

WORLD WIDE GUILD DAY WAS A SUCCESS

World Wide Guild day at the missionary conference at the First Baptist church was a marked success. Tuesday evening's congregation more than doubled that of Monday night. Miss Sadie Lea Weidner, of Tiffin, who has spent considerable time in Japan as a missionary, spoke most impressively on "The Girls of Japan." She was dressed in Japanese costume. Misses Emmalyn Hanson and Cora Stirling sang. Mrs. A. G. Davis sang the Japanese children's favorite song, "Jesus Loves Me, This I Know," in Japanese. Tuesday afternoon Miss Weidner spoke to women and young women only. Wednesday was young people's day, the closing day of the conference. The speaker will discuss the subject, "The Children of Japan" at the 7:30 session, when Edgar T. Vickers, president of the B. Y. P. U., will preside. Miss Weidner will again appear in Japanese costume.

radiogram from the Bolsheviki leaders, announcing their victory over the Kerensky forces and that Kerensky himself was in flight.

It was declared in official circles that the rise to power of the Maximalists and their anarchist allies would spell national suicide for Russia unless a miracle intervened. There has been fierce street fighting in Petrograd, and many civilian residents of the city have fled from the promiscuous shooting in the streets. The Bolsheviki leaders, Nikolai Lenine and Leon Trotsky, furnished arms to criminals and other irresponsibles and many of them took advantage of the situation to plunder and loot property. Fires were started, and much damage was done to fine old buildings along the Nevsky Prospect.

Y. M. C. A. FUND

T. Brooks, in the work as a whole, are these:

No. 1, $1,336; No. 2, $1,064; No. 3, $1,269; No. 4, $1,005; No. 5, $1,072; No. 6, $1,331; No. 7, $1,971; No. 8, $1,231.25; No. 9, $1,130; No. 10, $1,034.

The executive committe in charge of the campaign, with L. P. Metzger as chairman, profited $17, early in the evening, by auctioning off, amid much merriment, an alleged gallon crock of apple butter donated to one of the teams during the day, the purchaser being Dr. C. L. Smith, who learned a moment later—or pretended to learn, at least—that the bulk of its contents had just been consumed by the banqueters. Later, when the recreation fund was found to be short, he added $3 more to the price of the missing spread.

Chairman Metzger announced, just before team reports were called for, that workers in the various shops had secured $752.50 from the workers in various plants, making it possible to add to each team's pledges $80. The amount thus apportioned was contributed at the following plants, with which is given, where known, the name of the men who took charge of the solicitation work:

Deming company, $262.25; C. C. Roessler; American Steel & Wire company, $225; Buckeye Engine company, L. R. Rogers; Silver Manufacturing company, C. R. Haldeman, $145.25.

In addition to this, Mullins company employes made a handsome contribution, it is understood, through one of the regular teams, while employes at the Jessup pattern shop contributed $50 and those of the National Sanitary company a like amount.

During their reports the several captains made grateful acknowledgement of the following noteworthy pledges:

People of Berlin Center, $50; Salem Humane society, $10; members of Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks, $50; Methodist Sunday school, $50; Ohio State Telephone company girls, $25; Central District Telephone company employes, many of whom had already pledged, $7; R. S. McCulloch & Co. employes, $20; Knights of Pythias, $10; members of the Masonic lodge, solicited by L. H. Dobbins, $42.

Contributions to the recreation fund were reported thus: Team No. 1, $10; No. 2, $5; No. 5, $80.25; No. 6, $10; No. 7, $5.

As stated, when the shortage was discovered conscription was resorted to, each table being assessed $5, while those so unfortunate as to be sitting at the speakers' table were, by motion of the company, assessed $5 each and made to "cash in" at once. These victims were the chairman himself and W. H. Mullins, Secretary A. R. MacFarland, D. C. L. Smith, C. B. Hunt, J. D. Deweese, H. A. Greiner, W. F. Deming, A. R. Wilhelm, T. J Rossiter, W. L. Deming, D. B. McCune.

This last resort was adopted after voluntary pledges had been called for and the following responses made: Salem Country Club company, $25; W. F. Deming, $5; C. L. Smith, $3; C. B. Hunt, $5; W. H. Dunn, $10; E. Greenberger, $5; J. C. McKee, $5; J. T. Brooks, $10; W. B. Carey, $5; H. W. Young, $5. It was then announced that the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce would make up the balance, $137, so that the $960 recreation fund was assured, $405 having been pledged at the noonday luncheon Monday.

Following the transaction of business Chairman Metzger called in turn upon representatives of each of the teams for remarks, which were merrily applauded, and still later it was voted to continue the campaign organization as a permanent body during the period of the war, ready for service at any time it is needed.

Unanimous support was given to a motion tendering a vote of thanks to those whose financial support made the campaign a success; to W. H. Mullins, who with Mrs. Mullins gave $3,000 to the cause; to the ladies of the Red Cross for their hospitality, and to all others concerned in promoting the movement. The evening was well advanced when the company at last broke up.

Columbiana, Nov. 14.—(Special)—At the initial Y. M. C. A. war fund meeting here Tuesday evening a stirring address by O. I. Jones, editor of the East Liverpool Evening Review, was followed by circulation of subscription blanks which were so generously signed by 100 men present that the $1,200 quota was exceeded $255. It is now planned to make this $2,000 before the work ends.

East Liverpool, Nov. 14.—Before the close of a banquet here last night marking the opening of the drive for the Y. M. C. A. war work fund, East Liverpool subscribed $11,725, more than one-half of the $22,000 quota. Prediction was made that the city would "go over the top" in three days.

Damage Verdict Of $1 Returned Against Tribune

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—A damage verdict for $1 was awarded by the jury in court room No. 2, presided over by Judge Curtis T. Johnson, of Toledo, late Tuesday afternoon, in favor of Charles McPherson, Salineville miner against the East Liverpool Tribune Publishing company.

McPherson had brought action against the publishing company to recover $25,000 damages, for what he termed was an injury to his reputation, through publication in the Morning Tribune of a story concerning him which had been published in good faith by the newspaper and later retracted.

It was shown in testimony that the story had been told originally as a joke upon McPherson in Salineville, and it only required 10 minutes for the jury to fix the amount of the damages, 11 of the jurors concurring.

EX-MAYOR AL

Up until late Wednesday afternoon no definite arrangements had been made for the funeral service of Mr. Carlile, who for much of his alloted three score years and ten had been a leader in local and state political movements, a counselor and intimate friend of many of the really big men of days gone by, as well as a man always deeply interested in the welfare of this city, his chosen home, both while mayor and in private life.

As far as could be learned, no nearer relatives than cousins survive including Mrs. Jesse Cook, of this city; Mahlon McDevitt, of Leetonia, and Mrs. Early, of Alliance.

Albert Carlile was born in Salem in January, 1846, where he attended the public schools, later conducted a lunch room and afterward went to Pittsburg, where he managed a billiard hall. He was handicapped in early life as to education, which was slight, but by reading and associations he became one of the best posted and cleverest men in the political game in his time.

At the opening of the Civil war he enlisted in Company D, 19th O. V. I., serving three years and five months, much of the time at the headquarters of Generals Stanley, Thomas and Rosecranz. At the close of the war he was identified with a number of Salem manufacturing concerns and was assistant postmaster in 1865. In 1867 he engaged in the grocery business in Pittsburg, remaining there until 1892, when, being an ardent Democrat of the old school, he retired to accept a government position under special pappointment of President Cleveland.

This was United States government inspector of furniture and furnishings for government buildings under control of the treasury department. Although appointed under a Democratic administration, his services were retained for 15 months by President McKinley, when the position was taken out of the classified service. Returning to Salem, a thoroughly Republican stronghold, he entered politics with a vim and in 1903 was elected mayor over J. B. Baker. He was later thrice re-elected mayor, his last term expiring December 31, 1911.

He was a member of Trescott post No. 10, G. A. R. and the Eagles, and Moose and was president of the Daisy club here at the time of his death.

For years he was a prominent figure at all Democratic meetings in the state, having the close personal friendship of Governor Harmon and the other lights of the state Democracy. He was also a prominent patron of the trotting turf as a means of pleasure and recreation. John Splan, the noted driver, refers to him in his "Life With Trotters" thus:

"Al. Carlile is always considered Ira McBride's running mate, in build, eating and other traits of character. Carlile was always temperate, having never smoked a cigar or taken a drink of liquor. As a friend he is true blue, as many a man on the turf today has reason to know from the fact that at some time in his career Carlile has bridged him over a financial difficulty."

Mayor Carlile was at different times a presidential elector from this district; and served in that capacity the last time at the Chicago convention when Grover Cleveland was elected to his second term. The mayor received numerous letters from the late President Cleveland, one highly commending some suggestions made by Mr. Carlile to the Democratic national committee at the time of the Chicago convention.

Men in high positions all over the country were intimate acquantances of Carlile and but for remaining in Salem to take care of his aged mother and crippled brother he would have become a national leader.

Local draft board clerks are tackling the giant-sized task of summarizing in a detailed report all the work which the board has done during its three months' life.

Hold Turkeys till Fully Matured, Advice to Owners

Columbus, Nov. 14.—The food administration is in possession of information that there is a large stock of turkeys now in cold storage which will have to be placed on the market soon under the food control act. With a larger volume of the product going on the market there is prospect of an abundant supply at lower prices.

While the food administration is encouraging the use of poultry as a substitute for beef, pork and mutton, it is recommending to farmers not to put their live turkeys on the market until they are fully fleshed.

Turkeys have been slow in maturing this year. Poultry experts say the average young turkey will weigh from 10 to 15 per cent more on December 15 than on November 15 this year.

Chickens can be fattened any time but a turkey does not take on much flesh until it has nearly reached maturity. Then it gains weight rapidly. The rapid gain in weight which turkeys make after reaching maturity will more than compensate growers for holding them the additional 30 days.

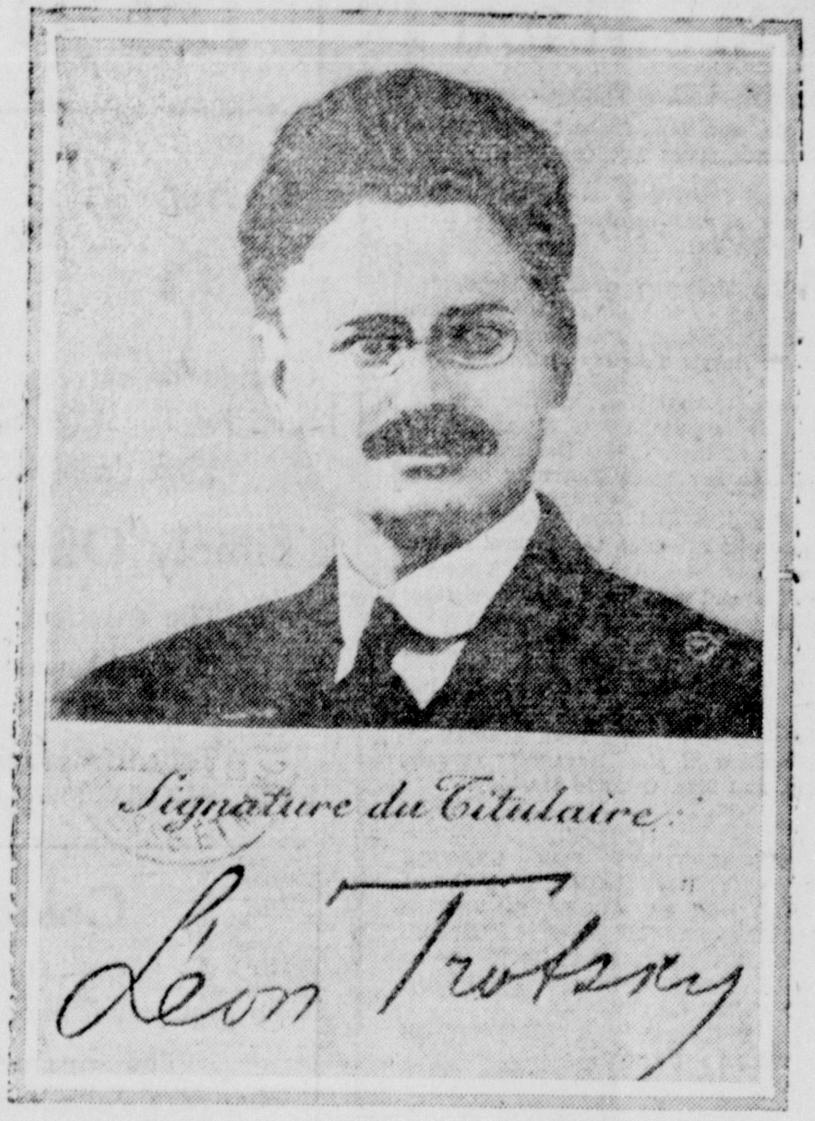
LEON TROTSKY, RUSS REVOLT LEADER



This photograph of the Maximalist leader of the new Russian revolutionary government was taken at the time he left New York to return to Russia. It carries his autographed signature for passport purposes.

Trotzky, the new leader, was born in the Russian government of Kherson on the Black sea. His real name is Leber Braunstein. He has traveled much; leaving Russia, he visited Spain and was shipped from that country to Cuba, from whence he came to New York. He is an extreme Socialist, gifted with a forceful literary style. He advocates an immediate peace.

Concerted Action Planned by Basketball Players and Fans to Secure Use of Gymnasium

Representatives of seven organized and prospective basketball teams, together with a large number of players and boosters, were in conference at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening in an effort to secure a suitable floor to play on this winter, following the loss of the Globe rink by fire last Saturday night.

The object of the conference was to take concerted action to secure the use of the high school gymnasium for use by city fives. Not only will the board of education be urged to grant this use, but it will be asked to permit the playing of games to which admission may be charged.

A representatives from each of the seven teams present was appointed to a committee to interview President L. B. French and request him to call a special session of board members to reconsider their earlier decision in regard to the use of the gymnasium. The movement to secure the use of the high school gymnasium is understood to have strong backing of citizens and fans of the floor game.

Another meeting of all those interested in basketball, for this winter has been called for 7:30 Frdiay evening, at the Chamber rooms.

These seven teams were represented at the initial conference Tuesday night: Buckeye Engine Co., both girls' and men's teams; W. H. Mullins Co., girls' and men's teams; S. B. C. girls, K. O. K. A. and the Silver shop team.

Other teams, not represented at the meeting, are back of the movement to secure a floor to play on this winter.

RED AND BLACK VS. WADSWORTH, SATURDAY CARD

Captain O'Connor and his squad of red and black gridiron soldiers will sally forth to Wadsworth Saturday to meet the strong Wadsworth High school eleven.

This game was arranged Tuesday to fill an open date in the local high schedule following the failure of an attempt to book a game with Shaw High of Cleveland for the gap in Salem's program.

The record of Wadsworth High for this season shows that Coach Dickerson's men have a mighty battle before them. Last Saturday Wadsworth High defeated South High of Akron 6 to 0, and a few weeks ago won from Ashland, 13 to 12. Ashland played Lorain, a team which Salem High meets one week from Saturday, November 24, and held it to a 15 to 12 score. Lorain High is the champion of the Little Six league, composed of the larger high schools of cities along the lake shore.

Wadsworth's linemen, whom Salem bucks up against this week-end, are reported to average in the neighborhood of 160 pounds.

Not until Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 29, will the red and black again be seen in action on the home field. This will be the wind up game of the season when Alliance High comes here to offer battle.

Hunting Season Opens Thursday; Ammunition High

Hunting season opens Thursday for Hungarian and gray partridges, Mongolian and ringnecked and other pheasants and ruffled grouse, the same time as the rabbit season. The season closes on the birds December 4 but not on rabbits until the first of January.

Reich & Ruggy, local distributors of licenses, estimated that about 50 licenses had been issued so far.

The high price of ammunition is said to be a drawback on the hunting season this fall.

It is against the law to kill quail this year. They are now on the song bird list, and until this law is changed, if ever, there will be no legal quail shooting in Ohio.

Turkeys Roosting High This Year

Turkey on the Thanksgiving menus of Salem citizens will be conspicuous chiefly by its absence this year. Local dealers estimate that this bird will sell around 40 cents a pound, possible as high as 42 cent.

Some dealers predict that the supply will be very scarce, while others say that there will be plenty to supply the demand. None of them are expecting many calls for turkey meat at this figure.

DOUBLE BILL FOR INDEPENDENTS

The Salem Independents must set a strong pace to carry them through their week-end card.

In addition to playing the strong Co. L team from Chillicothe here Saturday afternoon, the Salem aggregation goes to Massillon Sunday afternoon to play the Massillon Blues.

This team played here October 20, putting up the best brand of football seen in this city for several seasons, but lost to the local eleven, 7 to 0.

New faces will be seen in the Salem lineup when it travels to Massillon Sunday, when the hardest game of the season is before the team.

New Draft Rules Ready for Boards

Washington, Nov. 14.—Copies of the new army draft regulations are off the press for a final reading preparatory to mailing to the local exemption boards throughout the country. They will be in the hands of all boards next week to govern all future drafts.

Under the new plan the burden of supplying information which will result in his being placed in his proper classification under the selective service law rests squarely upon the individual registrants. All instructions now in the hands of the boards will be annulled upon the receipt of the new regulations, which are greatly reduced in extent and simplified in process.

Included in the new book is everything bearing upon the draft processes as now organized, from the time the questionnaire to be sent to each registrant and filled out and returned to the boards until accepted men are actually in the military service. Each book carries a copy of the statutes and also a verified copy of the master list of the drawing.

The questionnaire is the basis of the plan of grouping registrants in five classes, liable for duty by classes. The boards will be able to classify a man immediately when his questionnaire has been received.

The questionnaire process will eliminate from consideration for military service probably 95 per cent of the men who would have been discharged or exempted under the old plan. Under the first call the average board was compelled to examine five men to obtain one for service. In some cases not more than one out of ten or twelve were sent to the camps.

It is expected that under the new scheme the average figures will be reversed and, at most, not more than one man in five called up will fail to pass his physical examination and be rejected.

The American Bar association and the American Medical association are at work organizing the lawyers and doctors to aid registrants in their vicinity in filling out their questionnaries. With the aid of these associations it is hoped a high percentage of the questionnaires will come back in such form that the boards will have little more than a rubber stamp proceeding left to select the men to fill any call.

BOYISH QUARREL WASN'T ONE-SIDED, CLAIM MADE

Following publication, some time since, of news of a boyish quarrel over some chestnuts at the Mosquito Ridge schoolhouse, south of Winona, in which Walter Patterson was alleged to have struck and seriously injured Robert Brown, information was obtained to the effect that the affair was not entirely one-sided, some stones having been thrown, it is claimed, by the victim before the Patterson lad took a hand. Fortunately, no serious damage resulted from the "engagement."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

MUST PAY ALIMONY

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—Walter B. White, of Salem, was ordered by the common pleas court Tuesday to pay to his wife, Velma S. White, alimony in the sum of $15 on the first and fifteenth of each month until after the divorce and alimony action filed by her has been determined. The parties were married in Pittsburg. The wife charges extreme cruelty.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES MUST REACH GOTHAM AT LEAST BY NOV. 24

Washington, Nov. 14.—Christmas packages for men serving on American war vessels abroad must reach New York not later than November 24, the navy department announced Monday in issuing regulations to guide persons sending gifts to officers and men in the navy both at home and in foreign waters.

Similar regulations apply to packages sent to members of the American expeditionary forces in France, and the fact that improperly packed boxes have been received at New York for shipment to Europe prompted the postoffice department to issue orders to postmasters throughout the country not to accept such packages, unless they meet the requirements.

The regulatins issued by the navy department follows: "Packages forwarded by parcel post must comply with the postal regulations, and should be enclosed in substantial boxes with hinged or screw top cover to facilitate opening and inspecting.

"All boxes shipped by express are limited to 20 pounds in weight, should measure not more than two cubic feet in volume, be of wood, well strapped and have a hinged or screw top to facilitate opening and inspecting.

"No perishable food product other than those enclosed in cans or glass jars should be packed in parcel post or express shipments.

"All mail matter should be addressed as now prescribed by the postal regulations. All express packages should be forwarded in care of Supply Officer, Navy Yard, New York.

"All packages must be plainly marked with the name and address of the sender, together with a notation indicating the nature of the contents, such as 'Christmas box' or 'Christmas present.'

"The supply officer at New York will cause each express package to be opened and carefully examined to see that nothing of an explosive or other dangerous character is forwarded."

All Traces of Scrofula Eradicated from the System

By the greatest of all purifiers.

A common mistake in the treatment of scrofula has been the use of mercury and other mineral mixtures, the effect of which is to bottle up the impurities in the blood, and hide them from the surface.

The impurities and dangers are only added to in this way.

For more than fifty years S. S. S. has been the one recognized reliable blood remedy that has been used with highly satisfactory results for Scrofula. Being made of the roots and herbs of the forest, it is guaranteed purely vegetable, and absolutely free from all mineral ingredients.

You can obtain S. S. S. from any drugstore. Our chief medical adviser is an expert on all blood disorders, and will cheerfully give you full advice as to the treatment of your own case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. F Atlanta, Ga.

What Was Once Wesleyan Church Becomes Garage

Damascus, Nov. 14.—The building formerly owned and occupied as the Wesleyan church has been sold to Israel & Reber who are converting it into a garage.

The church has a history. More than 30 years ago a part of the congregation of the M. E. church organized a Holiness prayer meeting to teach holiness as a separate and distinct blessing.

They were forbidden by the pastor of the church, Rev. A. J. Lane, to hold these prayer meetings but the little band continued to meet despite the ban placed upon them and a church trial followed in which the leaders for the new doctrine were disowned by the M. E. church.

They then organized as a Wesleyan Methodist church and built a large church on Main street. For a time the new church flourished but acquisitions were few and as time rolled on members died or moved away and the church building remained closed.

Later it became a storage room for farm machinery, and now is transformed into a garage.

ACT QUICKLY.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger.

In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of Salem evidence of their worth.

Mrs. Mahala Smith, 77 West Dry street, says: "I always aim to keep a box of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand, for I have never found anything their equal for regulating the kidneys. Once in a great while my kidneys have acted irregularly and my back has felt stiff and lame. When I have bent over, it has been hard for me to straighten and I have felt out of sorts all over. It has only taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills during these spells to stop the misery in my back and put my kidneys in good condition. Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to do me good in every way."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith uses. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WASHINGTONVILLE PASTOR PREACHES AT INFIRMARY

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—Religious services on Sunday afternoons will not be discontinued at the county infirmary with the approach of winter, but will be conducted every other Sunday afternoon by Rev. Richardson, of Washingtonville, pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran church, which is in the vicinity of the infirmary farm.

It has been the custom through the summer for the pastors of Lisbon to take turns in holding services on the infirmary lawn each Sunday afternoon, but with the advent of cold weather, beginning yesterday they will be held in the big dining room of the institution.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

A Woman's Burdens

are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nervine which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in all cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; in bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine put up without alcohol—ingredients on wrapper.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been of wonderful help to me during expectancy. When I started to take this tonic I suffered with heartburn and was nauseated and weak. The first few doses benefited me greatly and I have kept right on taking it all the while. I think 'Favorite Prescription' a splended medicine for women and would advise its use by every expectant mother."—MRS. FLORA HOLDEN, 1394 E. 123rd Street.

AKRON, OHIO.—"I have taken Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' for woman's trouble and it did wonders for me. I had been ailing for five months and I only took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it did me so much good that I don't think I will need any more. I advise all similar sufferers to take 'Favorite Prescription.' I used the 'Golden Medical Discovery' for asthma and I do not feel as if I will need to take any more of it for it has been almost one year since it has bothered me at all."—ELIZA HODGE, 1366 Switzer Ave

Deadly Drugs Fed to Baby at Doctor's Word

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Deadly drugs are being administered to Paul Hodzima, four, by his parents, with the full knowledge they will cause his death within two months.

The drug has been given the little boy under instructions of Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, who says the child is suffering from an extremely small head, impaired breathing and other incurable ailments, and would be a hopeless idiot, if permitted to live.

"The child's mother has endured great mental agony since his birth and if he lives the suffering eventually would kill her," said Dr. Haiselden.

"She has had no rest for months because of the constant crying of the little one, who suffers intensely all the time.

"Some minor ailments might be cured by an operation, but it would not restore his mentality. The treatment I am directing will result in his death within two months.

"Opiates in the medicine prevent the child from suffering, meanwhile. The parents agree with me fully and are administering the medicine I give them.

"Euthanasia, or painless killing by drugs, relieves the pain and removes the horrors of death. The patient passes the dreamy existence of a lotus eater. Indian hemp and other milder drugs lessen a desire for food and the patient passes into the next stage within a month."

Dr. Haiselden became nationally famous through similar action in the "Baby Bollinger" case.

He says he has recommended the same treatment in a number of cases.

FOUR ESCAPE DEATH AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Four persons, all of Youngstown, had a narrow escape from tragic deaths Tuesday afternoon at Naylor's crossing, a mile east of Beloit, when the auto in which they were riding was struck by a westbound Pennsylvania freight train.

The automobile was demolished and the four occupants thrown out, but none was fatally injured.

The engine of the automobile in which the victims were riding, stalled as it reached the tracks and the freight train, coming from the east, could not stop in time to avert the accident.

The grade of the Pennsylvania tracks at Naylor's crossing, was changed recently, when a new track was added. There is a steep incline to the tracks from the road and it is believed this caused the engine of the motor car to stall.
